

Hoda Rashad

Director and Research Professor in the Social Research Center of the American University in Cairo, Ph.D. in population studies from the University of London in 1977. Current research interests include development studies ,poverty alleviation, gender issues, reproductive health, demographic analysis and evaluation of impact of health intervention.

In Egypt, member of the Senate (El Shoura Council), one of the two parliamentary bodies in Egypt. Also, serving on different councils in Egypt, including The National Council for Women, a council that aims to improve situation of women and their participation in the development of Egypt. The Council reports to the President of Egypt and is chaired by the First Lady. A member of The Higher Council for Policies of the National Party which recommends public policies to the current government of the National Party and chair of the Committee on Women in the Policy Secretariat of the National Party. Also, Member of the Ethic Research Council, The Egyptian Academy of Scientific Research & Technology.

Internationally, A resource person and consultant to a number of regional and international organizations.

Currently: Commissioner in WHO Commission on Social Determinants of Health (2005 -2008), member of the Council of the International Union for the Scientific Study of Population (IUSSP), (2006-2009), member of WHO Expert Advisory Panel on Health Science and Technology Policy (2006 – present).

Previously: Vice Chairman of the Dutch Development Assistance Research Council (RAWOO) (2002-2007). The Council advises the Dutch government on policy for development-related research. Member of the governing body of the Global Development Network (GDN) (2001-2004). A network launched in 1999 to support and link research and policy institutions involved in development. Member of the Scientific and Technical Advisory Group (STAG) of UNDP/UNFPA/WHO/World Bank Special Program of Research, Development and Research Training in Human Reproduction. (1998-2004).