GC(Global Collaborative) Summer Program

<http://gc.khu.ac.kr>

Global Collaborative Summer Program is based on institutional agreements between Kyung Hee University and University of Pennsylvania and East Asia's finest universities; Peking University in China, Ritsumeikan University in Japan, Moscow State University in Russia as well as the United Nations and Conference of NGOs(CONGO). Through high-quality research, education and diverse modules on Global Governance and East Asian Civilization, we hope this program will present an opportunity for students around the world to come together for a better understanding of each other. Each year, students from more than 30 different countries join the program to experience the diverse cultures represented among the students and have opportunity to exchange opinions with global opinion leaders.

College of International Studies

International Relations as a field of study is composed of four main subjects: International politics, International Economy and Business, International Area Studies, and Foreign Languages, especially English. Established in 1992, the Department of International Relations (IR) has been one of the few front-runners in this field of education and research in Korea. International Relations is an integral part of the College of Management and International Relations, which was set up in 1999 with the purpose of developing a very specialized program which combines international and business studies. All the members of the IS Major, students and professors, are united and determined to make our program the most prestigious one in the nation. Currently there are ten very distinguished professors as members of the faculty.

Graduate School of Pan-Pacific International Studies

<http://gsp.khu.ac.kr>

The Graduate School of Pan-Pacific International Studies (GSP) was established in 1996 as one of the nine ROK government supported graduate schools of international studies. The ROK government at the time was implementing a nationwide internationalization drive. As part of the campaign, the ROK Ministry of Education selected through competition nine institutions of higher education to train professionals in international affairs. GSP provides students with the opportunity to complete their entire course work in English and offers Majors such as International Trade and Economic Cooperation, International Business and International Relations and Area Studies.

Graduate Institute of Peace Studies

<http://gip.khu.ac.kr>

The Graduate Institute of Peace Studies (GIP) was established in 1984 with the aim of training potential world leaders who possess a vision of a new global civil society, and are committed to the promotion of peace and human welfare. The GIP is determined to establish a new global society that will be spiritually beautiful, materially affluent, and humanly rewarding. In recognition of the GIP's contribution to international peace promotion, the GIP was awarded the 1993 UNESCO Award for Peace Education. Envisioned in the founding goal of the Graduate Institute of Peace Studies is the establishment of a just, peaceful, secure, and affluent human society for the 21st century. The academic program is designed to meet future leadership demands by training students to be well-rounded leaders of the future.
