1. Introduction: The Orange Knowledge Programme

Nuffic's Orange Knowledge Programme is a 5 year global development programme, aimed to strengthening professionals and organisations through education and training. It contributes to the goals of the Netherlands' development cooperation policy, in which education plays a significant role.

The programme offers funding in 52 countries for individual scholarships, tailor-made trainings and institutional partnerships between Dutch and foreign education institutions in Technical and Vocational Education and Training (TVET) and higher education. It focuses on the priority themes of the Dutch government (Water, Food and nutrition security, Sexual Reproductive Health and Rights, and Security and Rule of Law) and aims throughout the programme for inclusion, employability and environmental sustainability.

Nuffic is programme manager, in close collaboration with the programme's funder, the Netherlands' Ministry of Foreign Affairs. Running from mid-2017 to mid-2022, it will offer at least 51,000 thousand people the chance to change their future through education.

With its institutional collaboration projects the Orange Knowledge Programme aims to support knowledge institutions in need of sustainable strengthening of higher and vocational education capacity within local priority themes relevant to development cooperation. Support for vocational education and connection to the labour market are important principles. Institutional projects consist of various activities that contribute to institutional development of organisations in developing countries on three levels: individual, organisational and institutional.

More information about the Orange Knowledge Programme such as the basic principles and the policy framework can be found of the Nuffic website: www.nuffic.nl/en/global-development/orange-knowledge-programme.

The Orange Knowledge Grant Obligations and Conditions can be found among the downloads under the link to this call.

The Orange Knowledge Programme focuses on sustainable strengthening of higher and vocational education capacity within local priority themes relevant to Dutch development cooperation which are outlined in the Country Plans of Implementation (CPI). Click here for the CPI's per country.

The Theory of Change (ToC) of the Orange Knowledge Programme describes the interlinkages between capacity building and sustainable inclusive development to which each approved initiative under the Orange Knowledge Programme contributes to. The ToC can be found here.

This document describes the procedure for submitting an Orange Knowledge Programme grant application for institutional collaboration project – joint proposals.

In this document you find important details for this call. Where applicable, links are included to provide more information on grant obligations and conditions, guiding principles, procedures, and formats.

2. Information specific for this call

2.1 Long-term impact

The Theory of Change (ToC) of the Orange Knowledge Programme presents the expected medium and long-term impact and outcomes of the programme. Each impact and outcome is quantified by a number of indicators which are described in the Orange Knowledge Programme Monitoring and Evaluation Framework and relates to the M&E Framework of Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

All projects must contribute to achieving these impact and outcomes. The grant application and, if the application is selected, subsequent reporting must give insight into how the project will contribute/contributes to achieving impact and outcomes.

The CPI gives all details about the impact, outcomes and indicators of the ToC of the Orange Knowledge Programme and of the contribution to the thematic ToC(s) specific to the country in question in Annex 3 b.

The proposed project must contribute to the following objective(s):

- universal access to sexual and reproductive health and rights (SDG 3 and 5).

The proposed project must contribute to the following long-term impact:

1. Better information and greater freedom of choice for young people about their sexuality;
2. Improved access to contraceptives and medicines;
3. Better public and private health care for family planning, pregnancies and child birth, including safe abortions;

The following medium-term impact will contribute to this:

- (I) Education system (TVET/HE) is of good quality, relevant and accessible (SDG 4);
- (II) Partnerships between persons and organisations are inclusive and sustainable (SDG 17);
- (III) Organisations key to (sectoral) inclusive development of partner countries are strengthened by inflow of enhanced workforce.

This will be achieved by the following outcomes:

- A. TVET/HE organisations (in the selected partner countries and in NL) perform better their core tasks, firmly embedded in their environment (in line with country / regional specific labour market needs & aiming at inclusiveness);
- B. Enhanced knowledge and skills of individuals and organisations in line with country / regional specific labour market needs & aiming at inclusiveness (in partner countries and in the NL).

In the Orange Knowledge Programme format for a grant application the consortium partners will be asked to select relevant indicators to measure the achievement during and after project implementation at medium-term and long-term-level.

2.2 Context of the call

Although Bangladesh has made remarkable progress in increasing demand for and utilisation of Sexual and Reproductive Health services, including Family Planning, the quality and coverage of sexual and reproductive health services needs to be strengthened through improving information and quality of government SRHR services. The intervention also includes sexuality education, contraceptives, safe pregnancy and delivery services, safe abortions and antiretroviral drugs.

Reference is made to the Country Plan of Implementation for Bangladesh, which clarifies the expected long-term impact to which this institutional collaboration project has to contribute.

Specific capacity gaps/labour market needs that need to be addressed (see CPI):

1. Strengthen vocational training capacity of government health staff and educators with regard to gender, sexuality and human rights, decreasing gaps between practice based knowledge and the scientific evidence base of educational programmes.
2. Include SRHR services and action oriented community education for underprivileged and difficult to reach women
3. Addressing SRHR needs of adolescents and youth through strengthening Technical Vocational Education and Training in the area of SRHR and improving access through extension services.
4. Increasing the coverage of sexual and reproductive health and rights services or scaling up community-based health care and supply distribution in innovative and entrepreneurial ways while:
 - ensuring the inclusion of advocates and civil society and
 - by creating an enabling environment for youth services / mobile outreach.

Please ensure working via multi-stakeholder platforms, including TVET, collaborating via small/medium/large enterprises, research institutes, NGO, local and national government.

Please take note of and align with current NICHE projects in Bangladesh NICHE-BGD-157 and NICHE-BGD-235.

2.3 Co-funding

Co-funding is one of the key principles underpinning the programme. It contributes to reciprocity and increases ownership of the collaboration. Co-funding may involve public, private and/or own funds.

Bangladesh is considered to be a Least Developed Country (LDC) according to OECD's DAC list. This means that an application for this call does not require a minimum of co-funding, but partners are encouraged to include co-funding. Integration of co-funding in the breakdown of budgets will be one of the assessment criteria in the selection of applications.

A contribution from public funds is defined as: a contribution in cash or in kind to which is directly or indirectly paid for from state resources. State resources comprise all funds from the public sector, including funds from local levels of government (decentralised, federal, regional or other) and, in certain circumstances, funds from private bodies.

Public funds from the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Netherlands (including embassies) do not count as co-funding, but can be added to the project.

Private funds are considered to be all funds – in cash or in kind – that are not state resources.

2.4 Questions about the call?

An explanation of the assessment specifying the assessment questions and their weighting is available on the website.

A grant application is given a score for each of these criteria. The application must obtain a minimum score for each of the three criteria. Only applications that have obtained the required minimum score on items I to III, and therefore totalling a minimum aggregate score of 90 out of a maximum of 150 points, are taken into consideration in the selection of a winning application. Applications that have not obtained the minimum score will be rejected.
